

the leg of a dog to play a joke.

People in Winter Garden like my informant did not want to be recognized because they were afraid of repercussions. But, of the people I have talked with, other than the three or four immediately around Tommy who are staying by his side, everybody seems to think that he is highly capable of committing these killings.

He had lived in Winter Garden all of his life. He has been a real terror. His parents sold a house a long time ago, and Tommy got upset with that because the house was to be his. So, the windows were broken on the house and clothes on the clothes-line were torn up. The lady in the house knew Tommy did it, but could never prove it. He did make a statement that he would get her for moving in his house. So, he is very very capable of doing it.
